TAKE NO THOUGHT. — Take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink, or, Where-withal shall we be clothed? For your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.—Matt. 6:31, 32.

WHAT THE EDITOR SAYS

Football is going, but then Christmas is coming.

Is it a fact that every man has his price? There are men of many minds and prices of various kinds.

Thanksgiving Day will soon be upon us. How many are thankful enough to do something more than saying so to prove it?

How many men and women, boys and girls, as they live and mingle with humanity have the idea of service to others at heart?

If some people were as big nuisances to themselves as they are to others possibly they would cut such stuff out. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

The question has been debated as to whether men make environments or environments make men. If the latter is true old environments sure does sorry jobs in some instances.

A bale of cotton is valuable running over $100 and yet when one sees bale after bale of the staple out in all kinds of weather it might appear to one that cotton did not amount to much so far as dollars and cents are concerned.

Germany is now needing food for her people. We sympathize with any people who are in distress but we cannot help thinking of a few truths such as: Chickens come home to roost; and "Be sure your sins will find you out."

Great men are not ashamed of their humble origin. Though born and raised in poverty, deprived of advantages, and compelled to fight as they go for each advantage gained they are not ashamed to say what was the tree conditions that surrounded them in early life. In fact it becomes a sort of honor, these men become really proud of the fact that they "went over the top" notwithstanding adverse circumstances, and became men notwithstanding poverty and adverse circumstances conspired against them. No one should be ashamed of an humble beginning if that beginning was an honest one.

Old Dan Murphy has been paroled and we trust pardoned. The old fellow, a life-timer in the state penitentiary, died last Thursday in his cell. He was offered a pardon, we believe, by Governor Cooper but refused it saying he desired to spend his last days in prison. He was convicted for the murder of County Treasurer Cope of Orangeburg county. He always said he was innocent. He escaped once and wandered as far as the Philippines where he served in the army. Some years after returning to this country he was again put in prison. The old man has escaped from earthly prison once for all and we trust he is now in glory where all pardoned souls rest in peace after death even if they come from behind bars of steel. The love of God can reach anywhere.

WHY IS IT?

The following question has been asked: Why will farmers build a garage for his $500 automobile and let his $1000 worth of farm machinery stay out in the weather?

Yes, why is it the case? Some farmers buy expensive farm implements, use them a while and leave them out in the weather about the lot and actually in the field for weeks. Money saved is money made. There are several reasons why machinery should be stored while not in use. One reason is because they are valuable, cost money and not to store and take care of tools means a money loss. Then a good reason why tools should be stored out of the weather is that one knows just where to go to get his tools and will find them ready for use. Many times when left out a hunt must be made weeks and months after last used and then when rounded up they are in poor condition and valuable time must be spent in getting them fit for service.

A good tool house is a valuable and very necessary part of the farm equipment. In planning the farm equipment the implement storage house should be considered. It is well worth its cost.

News comes from Gaffney, S. C., that a young business man of that town had been bitten by a boll weevil. Nothing new, all of us, especially cotton raisers have been stung by the insect and we are not safe from the insect yet.

A Wonderful Piano Proposition.

I have on hand two pianos, and they are not the cheap, shoddy kind either. I have had one of the same make of instruments in my home for fifteen years and there are a good many more that have the same make of instruments in their homes in and around Pageland. Ask Mr. U. F. Moore at the bank, he has one of the same pianos that I am offering.

Though I bought these pianos on the high market and will have to make a great sacrifice in price, which I certainly am doing.

One of the pianos cost $455, and I am going to offer this one for $375, and I am going to further offer to accept enough staple cotton, good strict middling 1 1/4 inch staple at 36c per pound to pay for same.

The other piano cost $415, and I am going to offer this one for $340, and will accept enough staple cotton, strict middling, 1 1/4 in. staple at 36c per pound to pay for same.

Now this proposition certainly ought to appeal to you if you are thinking of buying a piano. I am sacrificing, considering interest, over a hundred dollars. I am still shaving down the prices by giving three or four cents above the present market.

Should this proposition interest see
